

Frances Parnell Travel Adventures presents....
THE REST OF 2013

December 17, 2013

CHAPEL HILL: The Edge of the World Famous Research Triangle

Living in North Carolina, we often think of Chapel Hill as the home of "Dean Dome," UNC-Chapel Hill, and Memorial Hospital. Maybe it is time to take an inside look and see more of this Orange County farm that grew into a town of world renown. When parishioners erected New Hope Chapel atop of a hill, little did they know that it was the beginning of a town.

7:15 AM: Board the motor coach in the parking lot behind Winter Park Baptist Church. (This parking is between Park Ave. and Pine Grove Drive just off S. College Road.) Please eat before boarding.

7:30 AM: Coach rolls toward Chapel Hill with a rest stop along the way.

10:30 AM: Re-enjoy the glory "daze" of Carolina Basketball at the state-of-the-art Museum that features a "Game Day" theme and takes you from a theater for pre-game festivities to the main museum where you can have interactive experiences and view memorabilia to include some of your favorite moments. I will go straight to see the winning shot by Michael Jordan that secured his place on the road to history.

11:45 AM: Hear chimes and songs at the Bell Tower as students do during their change of classes.

12:00 PM: Arrive at the Carolina Inn for their month-long Christmas Celebration to include a holiday luncheon and the viewing of their traditional "Twelve Days of Christmas."

2:00 PM: Begin that inside look of Chapel Hill with Brad of Tobacco Road Tours. (Brad showed us Durham last year, remember Brad?)

4:00 PM: Drop-off at A Southern Season to include gawking, shopping and a snack to call supper. You just might finish your Christmas shopping here.

5:00 PM: Begin a drive toward Raleigh in the afternoon traffic. Better allow extra time!!

6:30 PM: Curtain call for a Broadway Show (Duke Energy Center for the Performing Arts in Raleigh) that thrills young and old alike. Yes, "Frosty the Snowman" will come alive in front of your very eyes, melt your heart, and give you an evening of adult fun that will be unforgettable. People just love Frosty!!

Return to Winter Park Baptist Parking Lot between 10:30 and 11:00 PM.

Deposit and final payment all rolled into one: $135 (transportation, tours, luncheon and Broadway Show.

Date Due: August 28. (I have to pay for the show tickets early to secure them. They do not hold space for groups until tickets are paid in full.) Please reserve ASAP.

Make check to: NATURAL & FAMILY RESOURCES, INC. 6451 Quail Run Road, Wilmington, NC 28409
